ADDRESSING THE NEEDS OF TWO INDIVIDUAL BUSINESSES WITH A SHARED RECEPTION IS EASY WITH THIS PHONE SYSTEM

TWO BUSINESSES - ONE RECEPTIONIST TWO SEPARATE ACCOUNTS

Modemedia and Tower Projects share an office floor and reception area. The two businesses operate independently though have combined their telephone system to save money and resources.

Chris Hekiek from Modemedia explains.

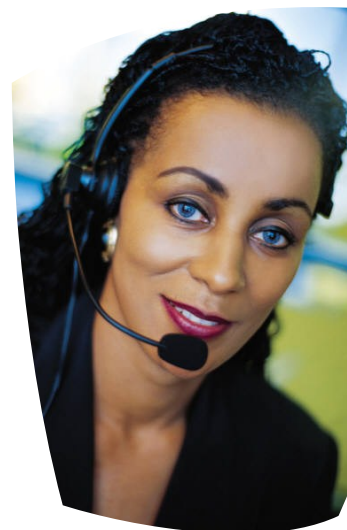

Simply put, we needed one telephone system that could service two companies independently, yet utilised a unison reception area.

This was the challenge we faced together with Tower Projects. We were sceptical to begin with, however, when we met Brett from Talking Business Co, he answered all our questions which helped to build our confidence.

Brett was knowledgeable and listened. It's a good system with a large amount of functions that we use. We are still learning all the functions it is capable of performing.

We hit the ground running with this system as Brett was confident it would deliver the benefits we needed. The after sales service is reliable. It's been a seamless procedure.

I have no hesitation in recommending Brett, DTP and the Avaya Telephony System.

AS YOUR BUSINESS GROWS SO DOES YOUR PHONE SYSTEM

No longer will you have to worry about the phone system going out of date as soon as you have installed it. As your business grows, we can grow your telephony system with it. We provide upgrades and additional hardware and software as required.

Opening a new location? We can connect the new premises with your existing premises so it operates together and seamlessly.
